HOME and SCHOOL

FOREWORD

May the MANET of 1960

be a symbol of what too

many of us tend to accept without thinking: that we, as individuals, are the synthesis of our home and our school.

Dave Hooley and Tommie Roberts are the symbols here.

Her day starts at her mailbox.

Miss Marjorie Currier

Because as our twelfth-grade counselor you are more than any other adult the integrating force between our home and our school in that you understandingly fuse our parents' hopes for us and our school's ambitions for us into the reality of our immediate future, we dedicate the Manet of 1960 to you, Miss Marjorie Currier.

OUR SCHOOL

Principal JOHN W. WALSH

The Church, the Home and the School form the great pyramid upon which all civilization is founded. They are the catalysts of the soul. In subtle proportions do these forces mould the human spirit. We emerge as individuals, strong or weak, in proportion to their influence upon us. We cannot escape this truth—nor would we if we could. We are the children of these timeless forces, strong as they are strong, weak as they are weak.

Empires rise, prosper, and die. Defeat and death come not from without but from within. As are our churches, homes, and schools so are we. Their strength is the barometer of our culture. It must, therefore, be inevitably toward them that we look for our character, not to H-bombs. They are the forces of integration and growth—anything less, of dissolution and destruction.

Institutions, however, do not exist without individuals to direct them. People, alert, dedicated to service breathe into them a dynamic vitality. Their heritage is passed from generation to generation through our children. You are about to fulfill your roles in this unending process. It is our fervent prayer that you have been well-prepared, and that you may strengthen rather than weaken the traditions you pass on. As you are the products of those who preceded you, so shall your children be of you. With the Spanish in their ageless wisdom we say, "Vaya con Dios"—Go with God.

"We just beat Quincy!"

Coach Jack Donahue and his able assistants began this year's worries over our undersized and inexperienced Raiders with the first workouts. After three weeks of intensive drills, the team journeyed to Stoughton for its season's opener. After a valiant but unsuccessful bid for victory, the green Raiders were turned back by the Black Knights.

On the following Saturday the Hingham Harbormen sailed up to engage North at the Stadium. Led by 1st and 2nd mates Al Johnson and Pete Bartoloni, the Raider battleship scuttled the Harbormen 18-6. Against Milton, the Raiders scored quickly thanks to the outstanding line play of Charley Sheehan and Brian Connerty and went on to outscore the Whiz Kids 20-0. With the North forces never conceding, the well-oiled Natick football machine gained a hard-fought victory.

The Red Raiders showed no ill-effects from a week's layoff as they thoroughly trounced a weak Cambridge Latin eleven. With the Walter Bryan-to-John Pettinelli passing combination clicking, the Raiders scored in every period. The next two weeks brought 12-0 misery to the Raiders, as both New Bedford and Dedham scored well-earned victories by this score.

After burying powerful Weymouth 32-6 in a scrimmage, the Raiders put out with a 200% effort on Thanksgiving Day to come up with a stunning upset over Quincy's bruising Presidents. Although the whole team turned in a tremendous game, co-captains Ed Swirbalus and Paul "Granville Trophy" Sadlier along with Skippy Pierce, Charlie Anderson, and Paul LaBrecque came in for extra praise. With this all-important victory, the Raiders evened their record at 4-4 and made their season and their turkey dinner a success.

Starting his third year, Coach Ken Rickson directed his veteran team toward another hard-fought season in the Greater Boston League. With his starting five comprised of returning lettermen, Coach Rickson had the team fired up for an impressive first game win over Quincy. Game Captain Paul LaBrecque sparked the Raiders with 27 points. Although our ace guard, Jim Painten, was out of the lineup for the next game, the Raiders overcame the handicap, and came through with an easy victory over Medford. The Raiders then ran their winning streak to 3 by defeating Lowell at the North gym. Painten broke back into lineup with a big 29 points.

In the next game, Weymouth brought the Raiders' streak to an abrupt halt with a one-point victory. However, the Raiders got their revenge against Revere as they came out on top of a 57-55 score. Painten sparkled for the Raiders as he dominated the defensive boards. Next, Chelsea visited North and the Raiders used them to prepare for the three league giants: Malden, Everett, and Somerville. But even with this preparation, the Raiders fell before all three after putting up hard struggles against each.

LaBrecque again was the big gun against Quincy, but the Raiders just did not have it on this occasion. Going down fighting, the Raiders knew that even though they lost, Quincy had been in a tough game. The Raiders came back to the winning track again in their next two decisions with victories over both Medford and Lowell, but then the boys ran into Weymouth, who proved the superior team once again. As we go to press, the team has five games remaining. Coach Rickson has given us his assurance that the team will keep plugging and bring added praise to the school.

This year, Coach Bob Laing took an experienced Raider hockey team into the Metropolitan Hockey League wars at the Boston Arena. The Raider pucksters started strong with one-goal wins over both Don Bosco and Malden with third-year defenseman Mike Densmore netting the winner in each. In their next outing, the North-enders were beaten back by Quincy in the battle for first place. Ed Pyne played an excellent game for the Raiders, blasting home their lone goal.

With the next two games the Raiders ran their record to 4-1 by handily defeating both Chelsea and Everett. Juniors Pete Cooke and Dave Higgins stood out for the Red Raiders in these contests. However, the North-men hit a snag for the next two games, dropping close decisions to Revere and Christopher Columbus.

Getting these two games out of their system, the Raiders came back with a strong repeat win over Don Bosco. Captain Al Johnson drilled home both Raider goals.

Against Malden, the Red-men found out to their sorrow just how cruel luck can be as they dropped a 4-2 decision. Even so, the boys came back strong, and led Quincy until the last minute when a determined Prexie assault netted the equalizer. In this game, defenseman Charlie Anderson played one of his best. Next, the Raiders again found what a difference luck can be as they got off 47 shots on the net but came away with only a 2-0 win over Chelsea. Capt. Johnson and Pyne banged home the North goals in an extremely clean game. At the present time, three games remain to be played with the team determined to win or die.

Although the boys won only two ball games, this year's baseball team turned in an adequate job considering their inexperience. Coach Ed Phillips welcomed only two returning lettermen from the previous year, Al Johnson and Paul Sadlier. The Raiders had a rocky beginning as the five straight losses can attest, but after picking up some experience the boys came on fast to split their final four games. The first of the two Raider victories came at the hands of Thayer. George Ruggiero pitched fine 6-hit ball in leading the Raiders to their 10-4 win. On the offensive, Al Johnson, Paul LaBrecque, and Jim McCabe each had two hits and combined to drive home seven of the ten Raider scores. In the last game of the season, the Raiders showed an indication of things to come as they thoroughly dumped Quincy 9-4. Tom Clark showed amazing control as eight Prexie batters went down swinging. Mike Densmore, Jim McCabe, and Al Johnson led the Raiders at the plate.

The first phase of the North track scene began in the fall when Coach Dave Meaney called for the Cross Country candidates. With Clark Maloof, Al Walker, Gordon Rollins, and Ted Kowilcik placing high, the team had a fine record against the tougher teams in North's class.

With winter, the second phase of our track picture came into focus. Coach Bob Gentry ran the team through its paces in preparation for the Met League season. Standouts for this year's team include Pete Bartoloni in the hurdles, Al Walker in the high jump, Gordon Rollins in the mile, and Clark Maloof in the 300. Although the squad lost many tight duel meets, Coach Gentry expressed his belief that this year's team did a fine job and that the school should be proud of it.

Our third phase of the track year comes with the spring when Coach Gentry greets the squad at Cavanaugh Stadium's dust bowl. Both Coach Gentry and the yearbook editors believe that a team with such standouts as Pete Bartoloni on the polevault, Clark Maloof in the mile, Arnie Kaupp in half mile, and Jim Mowbray on the javelin is destined for victory.

Our brand new soccer team finished the season in the losing column, this year, but it was deceiving because we played some of the best teams in the state. Coach Stanton was faced with a group of boys who never saw a soccer ball before, but in a few short weeks he whipped them into an enthusiastic team of soccer players. After losing our first game to Quincy, in which Alan Houston proved himself to be a real Raider, the inexperienced team trounced Thayer, who has played soccer for several years. The next game took the boys to Duxbury to play the best team in Eastern Massachusetts. At half-time, the score was 0-0, but the Champs were too much for our team in the third quarter. The Raiders could hardly wait to play them again. When we clashed again, this time on home ground, our valiant booters battled to a scoreless tie. Al Houston, John McSorley, and goalie Steve Geary kept the Raiders rolling.

As the season waned, we tackled Quincy again and beat them. We promptly challenged them to a city play-off. The playoff game was the last of the season so both the Raiders and the Prexies tried their hardest. The game was tied at the end of playing time, but in overtime Quincy scored to win 3-2. It was a heart-breaker, but the team knew that it would have been different if Al Houston and Bill Quinn had not been out of action. Now that the season is over, what do the rooters say? "Wait 'till next year!"

Dad Donahue gives Richie, Dave, Paul, and Gene points for par.

Although the season is yet to start, the yearbook editors can see nothing but success for Coach Jack Donahue's golf team. With the O'Keefe twins, Gene and Bill, and Dave Hooley returning as seniors, the team has a fine nucleus of veterans. Even with its tough schedule, we feel the boys will profit from Coach Donahue's able coaching and bring back a goodly number of wins.

Coach Laing demonstrates a grip to John, Larry, Danny, Don, and Fran.

When the sun breaks through, and when the temperature rises, and when the robins are in evidence to prove that it is spring, Coach Bob Laing's tennis squad journeys to the Montclair courts to begin practicing for the coming season. With last year's stars, Jack McCready, Dave Higgins, Winston Furtado, and both the Dworkins, on the squad again, Coach Laing's task seems easier than last year's. If each squad member calls upon the valuable tips which Coach Laing has dropped in practice, we believe the boys cannot miss adding to North's fine name in this sport.

At 7:45 a.m. on Thursdays, a group of weary-eyed people enter the school and gather in 123. Through the slumber comes the booming voice of Mr. Roberts, and the Student Council members are awake. The officers, President-Joan MacGillvary, Veep-Walter Bryan, Secretary-Barbara Berry, and Treasurer-Carol Greenlaw, call the meeting to order. This year the Student Council has done everything from selling book covers and folios to running a dance. But it plays a much more important role, for through this organization the students can have their say concerning our school and its activities. This council is a vital and worthwhile link between the students and the faculty, just as we link our homes and school, and memories link our school experiences and ourselves.

Senior Class

"Oak trees from little acorns grow." This quotation applies to our senior class in many ways. The class has grown from first graders to now-graduating seniors. The class has also grown in its attempts. This year our branches spread to three successful record hops. The roots which guided their direction were President Paul Sadlier, Veep Patricia Kelley, Secretary Doris Welch, and Treasurer Thomas Clark. The officers all aided in planning the Prom, Class Day, and all the other memorable occasions held this past year. Paul also undertook the sale of class pins which went like wildfire. But this year could not have been a success without the cooperation and support of all the members of the Senior Class. Now, as we branch out once again, from home to school, to college and the business world, we find many more branches leading to the finer and better ideals for which we are all striving. Yet we can never forget our acorn, our roots—our homes, and school—and the first branches of responsibility guided by Paul, Pat, Doris and Tom.

Bill, Lucille, Mom McCoy, Helen, and Mark take a social step forward.

The forthcoming Seniors have done a job which foretells banner success for next year. They have socialized at three collegiate-type dances: a Hallowe'en dance, a winter dance, and the second annual Junior Prom. Starring as dance committee chairmen were President Bill Tedrow, Veep Lucille Marchant, Secretary Helen Oaks and Treasurer Mark Franzoni. A deft chief-of-staff in all activities was Miss McCoy. A money-making activity was the sale of sports buttons to all enthusiastic sportsmen.

The Junior Class has learned the importance of cooperation and support, and the use of these tools to their best advantages. This knowledge will be carried with them next year and for many years thereafter, and knowing that, we feel they can't help being successful seniors.

Prom and Dance Committees

Rubbing social elbows in a year of planning were the members of the Prom and the Dance Committees. And such convivial integration! It just seemed as if each successive dance from The Autumn Leaves right through The Leprechaun Jig was another highlight of jovial fellowship. Indeed, we began to wonder how even superhuman ingenuity could devise a still more pleasurable evening such as a prom connotes.

But our Prom Committee, with Steve Conroy as chairman, did it. La Soirée d'Amour on May 20 turned the King Philip in Wrentham into a social swirl with the Parisian tone of Maxim's, as North's seniors and their escorts dined and danced in glittering gaiety. Even the favors of delicate pins centered with the school insignia displayed the artistry of French craftsmanship.

Although the dawn of May 21 brought a new day and with it a reluctant but happy close to our festivities, we know that our prom, like Paris the City of Light, shall live in our memories ever as the bright light of our high school social life.

Class Day

Once every year the seniors discard their roles of every-day teen agers and step into a kind of wonderland known as Class Day. Dressed like anything from a gryphon to a queen of hearts, each adventurous soul assembles at North to receive his Manet so that he can begin the mad race for signatures. Somewhere in the course of the day, the gay pretenders find time to spruce up for the senior "tea party," which is, in effect, a farewell party.

This year's class was no exception, and June 8 was a gay scamper from start to finish. Indeed, it could not have been otherwise with such a high-jinks committee: Marilyn, Ed, Nancy, Moe, Larry, and Joe.

Manet

To burn the midnight oil may be to many a Northite a figuratively expressed theory, but to the editors of the Manet for 1960 it is a literal practice. In fact, it helped to make felt in an extra-curricular activity the reality of this year's theme: the student is the synthesis of the school and of the home, for even post-class time up to dusk in room 205 had to be supplemented with mentally vigorous hours at home.

Countless drops of physical sweat were only the merest suggestions of the countless drops of mental sweat that integrated the theme from the first page to the last page yet with double-page layouts of stimulation, variety, and artistry in between. Tom's and Jo's nocturnal groans as they anguished over balance and interest were only suppressed into bated breath as they awaited Phyl's approving nod, and then released to squeals of delight with the adviser's final o.k. And so evolved the layout and the editorial efforts that make up our yearbook.

All this while, though, George and Mike were in a financial flurry. How could they have the heart to turn down for financial limitations the approved dummy sheets? And being men of big hearts, they raised the wherewithal to give the green light!

Then Monica took over and typed like fury. Never once did she let us down.

Our assisting staffs—twelfth-graders too numerous to mention individually—did behind-the-scene tasks that gave us the inspiration to persevere. So you see the Manet for 1960 is truly the product of many seniors who gave not only school but also home time, and thought, and energy, and dedication.

Dad Redcay and Monica start the day off together.

Phyllis Redcay, John Hofferty, and Jim Bleiler enjoy an off-schedule session.

Mo, Jo, Adviser Hofferty, Tom, Bill, and Phyl puzzle a layout with Mr. Bleiler.

Girls'

The Executive Board

The record of this year's Girls' Club still spins round and round in our heads. Disc jockeys Alyce Warner, Martha Hohmann, Marilyn Forrest, and Dorothy Clasby started this recording with a bang with the traditional Thanksgiving collection bringing in a vast number of can goods. Our stars were among those who made personal appearances in a Christmas show for the physically handicapped.

At the annual semi-formal, Frosted Fantasy, our stars paraded on the avenues of Candy Land. Their benefit performances for this year's Manet Show, Hawaiian taped, attracted fans from all over. The results of this show aided all of us, lessening the cost of the Manet. This memorable record will be played over and over in the minds of all Seniors.

The memorable year, 1959-1960, held many "firsts" for the glee club: the first year with director Mr. Bono; the first year it met within class time; and the first time it practiced in two groups. Christmas came early for its members, for they began their dilligent work for the Christmas Assembly in September. Their reward—a splendid production! But even more rewarding were the top-rating results of the annual spring concert. Their last contribution—their response at graduation—was jointly moving to both the graduates themselves and their proud parents in the audience.

Pep Club

Three cheers for the Pep Club—those lusty enthusiasts who donned their red sweaters, made their own colorful shakers, and trooped to the games where their teenage rooting roused both home and school into a frenzy of fight. For did they not both pep up the teams' spirits to win and at the same time stir up the school spirit of the supporters in the bleachers not only students but also the large numbers of mothers and dads who would sooner miss dinner than a North game!

Headed by prexy Kathy Riley, veep Donna Belforte, treasurer Joanne Carlson, and secretary Pat Lawler, the girls all deserved the title of Pepsters.

In an ever-changing world, the ideals of the National Honor Society remain a constantly burning flame of inspiration for us students. The qualities of character, scholarship, leadership, and service are exemplified by President Charles Anderson, Vice-President Josette Smongeski, Secretary Virginia Jenkins, Treasurer Alan Houston, and all their fellow members.

These students are a testimonial to the successful union of home and school. Under the guidance of Miss Louise Fifield and Miss Marie Youngerman they not only sponsor programs of academic worth but also with social graciousness bring together their mothers and dads and the teachers at North at their annual tea. Indeed, both home and school are proud of North's Honor Society.

Library Staff

The working booky sextet—Carol, Jeanne, Jean, Jo, Bobbie, and Anne—prepare for rush hour.

To hold the keys to the library, North's Storehouse of Knowledge, is a too ubiquitous job even for such efficiency experts as Miss Sherman and Miss Countie.

So to carry out capably the hundred-and-one simultaneous duties that the library demands around the school-day clock the Library Staff, forty-five strong, unlock the work details of checking books in and out, resurrecting back issues of magazines, decorating bulletin boards, mending abused books, and tracing down unreturned reference books.

Despite this whirlwind routine Miss Sherman's girls never forget that they are the finished products of home and school, and so with gracious informality they invite their mothers to share the friendship of a tea and the sporting good nature of a picnic.

Nurses' Career Club

The Nurses' Career Club of 1960 had the honor of being the first nursing club in the state to receive a National Charter from the National League of Nursing. The activity of visits to several hospitals such as the Veterans' Administration Hospital and the Lakeville Sanitarium and of speakers such as Miss Mary Hoare of the John Robert Powers School let the girls see the "inside story" of nursing.

Miss Alice Gray was the adviser and her officers were Merry Poutree, President; Andrea Gillespie, Vice-president; Pat Mulhearn, Secretary; and Pat Linnehan, Treasurer.

With hickory stick in hand, President Roberta Fogo brings the meeting of the Teachers' Career Club to order in room 226. With the aid of her three assistants: Veep-Joyce Leavens, Secretary-Virginia Lagh, and Treasurer-Pamela Franklin, "Bobbi" is able to get marvelous test results including a panel discussion, a field trip, and a dance. Principal advisers Miss Boyle and Mr. Casey are always there to help with "problem children." This year's class, meeting on the second Tuesday, graduates with top honors.

Miss Boyle tells Denis, Duane, and Bobbi: "To pack up your troubles in your old kit bag, and smile, smile, smile" in the classroom.

Tri-Hi-Y

Splash parties, dances, and hay rides spotlight the social activity of Tri-Hi-Y, but it's mainly a service organization. The girls earn money through car washes and cake sales, and then contribute it to some worthy cause. Each year the mothers of the members are invited to the induction ceremony. When this ritual is over, all the moms and daughters during a social hour both get to know one another and like true gourmets feast on irresistably inviting delicacies.

Alyce, Dick, Martha, Moe, Paul, and Jim enjoy those Friday night dances.

Band

Ring out the old; ring in the new. This has been the theme of the North Quincy High School Band this season. Under the able leadership of our director Mr. Anthony Ferrante, the Band successfully made the transition from a Class B to a Class A musical organization. The first half year was spent saying a hectic farewell to the old Class B standing by playing at football games, at rallies, and in traditional parades.

The second half year was just as hectic playing concert pieces, novelty numbers, overtures, and top-shelf band numbers demanded of a band with an A rating. All in all, North's band has had a red-letter year!

There are practical jokers everywhere: Bob, Ed, George, Charlie, Don, Geo, Thad, and Tom.

Mr. Merritt's patient efforts in drilling these unpredictable girls certainly show results in the snappy maneuvers which were performed at half-time and before the games. A favorite formation was a Q with the band forming the N. In time to the music of "On North Quincy," the many batons flashed in unison.

Girls' Sports

Amassed on Tuesday afternoons on the battlefield (gymnasium) is a great army of girls. The Commander of these weekly skirmishes is soft-spoken General McCoy. Her strategy makes confusion almost impossible. With special black-and-white insignia, her lieutenants act as mediators in the war games.

In battle dress of blue or blue and red, and equipped with much enthusiasm, the squads seek to outwit each other in advancing their front lines to add a victory to their series of campaigns. Morale among the squads, which are grouped according to seniority, is high, and with each victory the individual squads gain more self-confidence in their maneuvers. One of these squads, the "Red Raiders," has set an amazing four-year record in conquering all foes.

Traditionally, the preliminary contests begin in December, and in the spring are fought the decisive battles, for which only the fittest survive.

Champs for three years, maybe four, are Nance, Jo, Helen, Cam, Barb, Dot, Joyce, and Joan.

Girls' Student Leaders

The activities of the rambunctious girls' student leaders have been slowed down considerably. This is due to this year's changed schedule which, in eliminating homeroom periods, also eliminated practice time for these girls. However, Miss McCoy has used her student leaders whenever possible. Their assistance was particularly helpful during the physical fitness tests, when they not only relieved Miss McCoy of time-consuming commercial trivia, but also were at her side in the positive steps of the program.

Boys' Student

Al and Don mix 'em up as Fred, Bill, and Skip wait their turn.

Unfortunately, the fine work of the Boys' Student Leaders was forced to come to a close this season because of the new scheduling. In years past, every boy at North enjoyed the help of a superior athlete in his gym class. These he-men always gave an exhilarating performance of fine coordination and exceptional daring. Who can forget the show given in 1958 which saw these artists twist and turn breathtakingly through the air in rolls and loops which would make an airplane look like a wounded duck? The audience thrilled to Freddy Bonner's gravity-defying work on parallel bars. It was a sad day at North when this crew was grounded, but all is not lost yet. This year, under Mr. Rickson's guidance, the same men are working without glory after school just so they can enjoy the fruits of knowing that they themselves have accomplished something. Every person stands back and admires this group of human gliders.

Skip and Fred hit the rafters.

Girls' Bowling

The ominous thunder heard at 2:45 every Monday in the vicinity of Norfolk Downs is due to the efforts of the Girls' Bowling Club whose members are taking advantage of one of North's many opportunities to build up their bodies as well as their minds. President Jane Marcou, Vice-President Linda Spear, Secretary Gail Uhtoff, and Treasurer Jeanette Webber join with Miss McCoy to make this club one of the most popular in the school. From bobby socks and bowling shoes, these girls learn to turn with ease to party clothes and social graces for their annual spring banquet, thoroughly enjoyed by every member.

Rifle Club

Al is a smiling target for Pete and Justine, as long as Jim and Bruce look the other way.

Stationed at their new permanent quarters at Atlantic Junior High, the Rifle Club Division of North's Army trains for major combat with the enemy. Led by Commander-in-Chief Burgess, General Houston, Colonel Lynch, Major Kelly, and Captain Ferris, the troops plan their strategy for the ensuing battles. With the 1958-1959 campaigns successfully behind it, the Rifle Corps is in a strategic position to carry the glory of their homeland into enemy territory and emerge victorious once more.

Varsity Club

The four officers: Pete, Dick, Swib, and Al symbolize the sports of North.

With President Ed Swirbalus commanding the meetings from his podium, the North Quincy Varsity Club went on to one of its most successful years ever. To assist our idea-sparkling president, the club voted Al Johnson vice-president. While these two were conducting the meetings, Dick Cooke and Pete Bartoloni were taking care of the financial and secretarial duties. This year, the club opened with a bang as it sponsored a very successful fall dance.

The top-shelf activity, however, was the "Stardust Serenade." Given during Christmas season, it decked the gym out like the salon of an English country squire's mansion with a huge decorated Christmas tree, a warm sparkling yule log, and poinsettia plants on every gay table where true holiday refreshments were served. As a memento every girl received a link-chain bracelet with a star inscribed with the club's insignia.

Sputniks? Why not? North's Science Club is satisfied with no less than shooting for the moon, with projects for both the Science Fair and personal pleasure. The Science Department, headed by Miss Schields, gives to President Rhoda Sandberg, Vice-President Donald Hoffman, Secretary Laine Perley, Treasurer Joe O'Donnell, and the rest of the club all the aid necessary for launching their plans. This year, the parents joined forces and formed The Parents' Booster Club of Science and Mathematics. With both their school and their home staunchly behind them, the members of the Science Club will have no trouble reaching their stars.

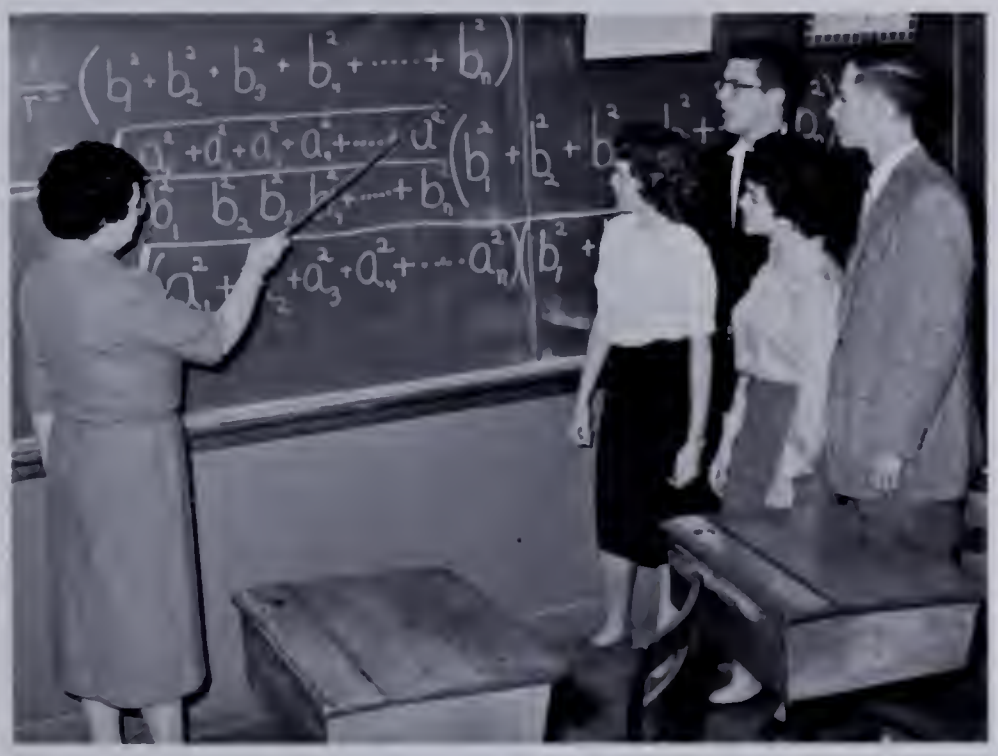
Math Club



"Mom" Horrigan points out a humdinger to her officers: Beryl, Bill, Rhoda, and Steve.

Detention has just got out, and as the wayward soul plods on down the corridor, sure that he is the last person in the school, he stops in amazement. Miss Horrigan's room is alight, and inside, a swarm of boys and girls are cracking their skulls to get at the root of an equation. "Can it be," the boy asks himself, "that there are people who will stay in school after 2:30 of their own accord?" The boy had hit the nail on the head, although he didn't know it. Any seniors who have the drive to enlighten themselves in math in their spare time are worthy of the highest praise.

And with Bill Westerbeke as president, Al Houston as vice-president, Beryl Simpson as secretary, and Deny Vaughn as treasurer, the club as usual took top honors at all math contests they entered.

Sketch Club

The key which unlocks the door to 401, the Louvre of North Q. H. S. where the Sketch Club meets, is service. Under the direction of Miss Sawitsky, the members have made decorations, posters, murals for hospitals, and helped the Chamber of Commerce revise a booklet. So you see, this club does service not only for the school, but also for the community, helping whenever possible. As its piece-de-resistance, it has painted a commendable and worth-while panorama that called for integrated artistry.

In close operation on the Booster Club poster: Bill, Dot, Rosemary, John, Jim, Carol, and Jim.

Radio and T. V. Club

This club incorporates home and school in an unusual way. It has solved the age-old problem of getting a legal excuse to watch television instead of doing homework. Actually, the club spends more time behind the lenses than in front of the screen. These scientists of tomorrow, under the able leadership of Ron Lawson and Ed Carey, figure out what makes the waves go from the studio to the home, and what induces them to leave the studio in the first place. The school's hat is off to men who in leisure hours are willing to further their knowledge of how studios are run and to take over our local studio for a broadcasting day in May.

Whether one or several visitors seek out the information desk, they are graciously given all the aid they need. Key Club

Tom and Jim feel a bit of joshing is the key to fun.

Tom points down his opposition to the approval of Charlie, Dad Carlin, and Jim.

The North Quincy Key Club, in business for the first time, opened the lock on many rewarding experiences for its twenty-four customers. Under the direction of master locksmith Mr. Paul Carlin and apprentice Tom Clark, the Key Club ground out many keys for community service. When the keys had been finished, a helping hand had been given over to voters with a baby-sitting service at election time, to the Girls' Club with a boost in its welfare programs at Thanksgiving and Christmas, to the parents with an appreciation banquet, and to understanding in international relationships with a foreign student-exchange assembly. To be sure of keeping the financial and social records straight, the Key Club hired Auditors Mal Garland and Secretary Bill Apsit.

With these three employees, their employer, and the twenty-four customers working hand in hand when the shop opened every Wednesday morning, the Key Club ended in the black for the year. In appreciation for the fine work done by both the North and the Quincy branches, the main office rewarded them with a fine luncheon when the final reports were in. If the club can continue to get the same quality of employees and customers in future years, the Manet sees no reason why the club will not remain a going concern.

My heartiest wish is that you will treasure the Manet of 1960 as a memory book of the real teen-age you: the synthesis of home and school. The staff and I have worked long and hard for such a reality. Neither their efforts nor mine could have crystallized without the ever-present help of Mr. John Hofferty, our challenging faculty adviser; Mr. James Bleiler, our genial photographer; Mr. Roswell Farnham, our voice from Keller Press; Miss Esther Morrison and Mrs. Shirley Paulson, our gracious bankers; and the staffs—Advertising, Commercial, Editorial, and Patron. And so to them, to my editors—George, Joanne, Mike, and Tom—and to you I say, "Thank you, and all the best in the years to come."

Thank you,

Community Mothers and Dads, for helping us to realize the
